FARMERS' ASSOCIATION.—There is a city organization, it is a misnomer, intended to have a team standing on the streets of Fresno. Farmers who come to town frequently drive up in front of the place where they do their trading, and leave their team standing about for sometime. Whenever a policeman makes a turn, he will take charge of it, and the notion of such seizure is that the owner is to pay a fine before he can recover his property. People who drive to town will do well to hitch their teams at a point before going about their business, a point where no policeman is to be found.

Mr. E. Freeman showed us yesterday some sample bunches of Seedless Sultan grapes from his vineyard in Fresno Colony that are remarkable for their size and quality. They are usually sold in small grape bunches, but those shown us by Mr. Freeman are almost as large as ordinary Malmenies. The Seedless Sultan makes a very fine cooking raisin, and Mr. Freeman is now making his crop out of prunes, apricots, peaches and other fruits. When cured they are very light and airy and a most delicate transparency. They will sell on sight in any market.

PAESO LODGE.—For many evenings Gen. Sam Vanderveer, Republican nominee for Congress from the sixth district, will address the people of Fresno at the Opera House. The General is said to be a very pleasant speaker and a polished gentleman, and Fresno should receive him with great interest. It is more than probable that he will be elected, and our grain and wine makers will have special reasons for tendering him a most cordial reception upon this his first visit to Fresno. Ladies especially invited, and all those interested in human welfare, should make every effort to have him at the hall, where he will stand up to his best.

PROFESSOR THOMAS.—The American Academy will open its doors Saturday evening, September 27th, instead of Oct. 10th as previously stated. See announcement in another column.

A report of the Republican meeting held in the county last Saturday night was crowded out of this issue and will appear in Sunday morning's daily edition.

New and attractive styles of Job type have just been received at Tim's Bookstore. If you want meat and all your work, leave your orders at this office.

Mr. J. R. Austin went to the fair at Stockton Wednesday, and after taking in the sights there will visit the bay before returning home.

Miss Imogene Rosell, who has been spending the summer with friends in San Francisco, returned to Fresno on Friday of last week.

Prof. J. Normal Academy will open on Monday, Sept. 27th, instead of Oct. 10th as previously stated. See announcement in another column.

Dr. Thompson, agent for the American Bible Society, will present Sabbath morning at the usual hour of service in the M. E. church on K street.

The kindergarten school at the Army Armory, under the management of Miss Gertrude Wilson, appears to be giving general satisfaction and is meeting with deserved success.

Our thanks are due R. W. Riggs for some fine views of Sierra scenes, including views of Mt. Goddard and the head waters of the San Joaquin and North Fork of Kings River.

Frank T. Bullock returned home last Monday night after spending a number of days in the mountains and snow for the benefit of his health, and is looking much better than when he went away.

M. H. Mastag came over near losing a finger a few days since, by reason of getting too familiar with a circular saw. The mutilated member was patched up so well that it would be as good as new before it is thought will be.

S. B. Bruce returned on Saturday last from his extended visit in the East. He enjoyed his trip immensely, and will give The Republican a pure picture of some of his observations in the sections which he visited.

Only one-third of the members of Economy C. could get away from their business to go to the fair in Stockton, but the others will for the benefit of the company, as most of those who went had to leave their business in charge of others.

A small residence and an old fruit cellar were burned last Saturday night. Mr. James and family, the occupants of the house, lost nearly all their household goods, and Mr. J. had one hand severely burned.

No one is to be found, however, who is a specialist in the art of mending, so they could mend each other, and would soon be back.

Claimed that personal liberty is restricted by law where the best good of the majority is sought. We have laws against scores of things, many of which are of no benefit to the community, but have a bad influence.

Said he: "Could the effect of the liquor traffic be portrayed no man could boil it in oil, and fire?" Showed its direct influence to stimulate every variety of crime, and by logical reasoning power that prohibition was an easy device to use to stop it.

In the matter of the right to own property, he said that the party which partied to be the party which the elevators, the theatre, and vice, are to the ladies party. Woman, while the connecting link between man and God, claims an interest in this right, and the children in the family, the wife, the husband, are in the same interest. He told of Mr. Vachas, a man, who, in a speech, asked: "What will become of all the corn and rice and wheat and barley if these things are not grown?"

The report in circulation the first of the month, Harry Beaver, had been shot by a woman in San Francisco appears to have been without any other foundation than a general desire that Beaver was suspected as being the murderer. This is the only fact that can be ascertained from the report.

A. T. Tombaugh went to San Francisco Wed. evening for the purpose of purchasing a full stock of goods for his recently purchased store. Mr. Tombaugh will carry a good assortment of general merchandise, provisions, groceries and staple articles in dry goods. His place of business is 212 Mariposa street.

Vest Hale, a colored woman who works in Mrs. Converse's clothing store, was taken ill Saturday evening, and was carried to her home, situated on the south side of Mariposa, a part containing 150 houses belonging to Miss Jessie Hale, the telegraph operator. Mrs. Hale left her house in her room in the lodging house. The accused was found not guilty.

Ward's bankrupt stock was sold at sheriff's sale this week, and the goods brought a much larger return in cash than the creditor had expected. He expects to speak throughout the State. At the close numbers sign the roll for a Prohibition club which will be organized.

PLANT FOR FRUIT.—Figs grow perfectly in almost every part of Fresno county, and if properly handled and managed, the fruit will be a great success.

Everything it claims has. One considerable feature of the show is the presence of the large army of thieves, rascals and rogues that annually annex themselves to mammoth shows of this character. The trained elephant, trained dogs, leaping and tumbling, contortionists, acrobats, etc., in fact, the entire program of the entertainment, will be the price of admission."—The Daily News, Salida, Thursday, July 31st, 1858.

"Sale Days." Gongs exhibited here yesterday afternoon and continue about three hours, people and every one was delighted with the excellent, clean performance, that embraced a number of new and interesting features. Old men, who have seen every circus in the United States, for the last half a century, pronounced it the best circus they had ever seen, and said that the manager had the largest variety and finest specimens of wild animals they had ever seen in one collection. It is the only circus, or show of any kind, that can be recommended to the public.

Mr. Harris will remain with us during the week, addressing audiences in different parts of the country.

We have a great many tales of drunkards who beggar their children, turn their household out of doors, break the family crockery, and finally freeze on some winter's night with an empty bottle by their sides. But there is more. While a drunkard, Mr. Harris speaks in French again either Friday or Saturday evening, and we can assure those who have not heard him that they will be entertained and convinced by his eloquence and argument, if they will but come out.

Mr. Jones is the biggest big-wig next of
New York. Prohibition envoys in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont
and New Hampshire have had
great success in their efforts to

comes bold enough to tell how he has
left a fortune upon his descendants to the
third and fourth generations, and gives
in fee simple to help him, consumption,

will look on his like again; and 'tis
better to have loved and lost than never to have lived at all." Such a noble leaves
a tenacious hold on the mind of his son,
but it is a remarkable fact that most of his business establishments, and his daughters' liberal donor, and no one
comes bold enough to tell how he has
third and fourth generations, and gives
in fee simple to help him, consumption,
sorcery, insanity and drunkenness.

Mr. Jones is the biggest big-wig next of
New York. Prohibition envoys in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Vermont
and New Hampshire have had
great success in their efforts to
get rid of the notorious drunkard, who lives in luxury
and cloes in all the odor of refinement
and church membership, and sleeps under a tall monument bearing the inscription
that "take him all in all, to know him was to love him; we never
will look on his like again; and 'tis
